

on the hand. The official then succeeded in reaching his own revolver, and he fired shot after shot into the would-be assassin's body. Every bullet took effect and the Anarchist fell to the floor dead.

Chief Shippy said he believed that the presence of his son saved his life. He has no doubt that the man had planned to kill him.

"When he handed the envelope to me the thought struck me like a streak of lightning that he was up to some wrong," said Mr. Shippy. "I didn't like his looks. He appeared to me to be an Anarchist. I grabbed his arms, and forcing them behind his back, called to my wife, who was in another room. When she ran in I said:

"Mother, see if this man has a revolver." She felt one of his back pockets and said that he had.

BROKE AWAY AND FIRED.

"I tried to hold him with one hand and draw my revolver with another, but he jerked away and fell against the door. I caught him again, and he fought hard to reach his revolver. My son must have heard the struggle, and just as he came to my aid the man freed one hand, drew his revolver and fired two shots at my son. Then Foley ran in and the man shot him.

"By this time I was able to draw my own revolver. I fired at the man four times. The first two bullets entered his head and the others his body. He fell at the first shot, and I fired three more into him. The man drew a knife also in the struggle, but I didn't know I had been cut until after the fight was over."

The attack on the Chief is believed to have been inspired by the recent activity of the Chicago police following the killing of Rev. Leo Heinrichs, a Roman Catholic priest, who was shot by an anarchist in Denver while the priest was administering the Sacrament to his slayer.

Immediately following the tragedy in Denver, attempts to trace the crime to a conspiracy hatched in Chicago were begun. The local police discovered that the society of Italians formed here had been issuing inflammatory literature aimed at clericals, and also that several local clergymen had been receiving threatening letters.

PUT WATCH ON ANARCHISTS.

While the funeral of Father Leo was being held in Paterson, N. J., yesterday details of police guarded several of the Roman Catholic churches here. Especial precautions were taken in the Italian quarter, where officers in citizen's clothes scrutinized every worshiper as the congregations entered. Later the officers moved to the altars and stood guard over the priests as they conducted the services.

In addition to these measures, all known Anarchists in the city, among them Emma Goldman, were warned that they would not be allowed to make addresses in public. So far as is known, none attempted to disobey this order, and no arrests were made of followers of the cult. The documents sent out by the Italian organization were carefully worded, and an examination of them showed that prosecutions based thereon might have failed because of technical shortcomings.

HAD CALLED BEFORE.

A circumstance that convinces the police that the attack upon Chief Shippy was the result of an anarchist plot was the fact that a man answering the description of the assailant called at the Shippy residence yesterday morning about the same as the stranger appeared to-day. The Chief was not at home, and after learning this the stranger left, the incident causing so little comment that it was not even mentioned to the Chief by the members of his family, who were at home at the time.

The caller of yesterday was met by Mrs. Shippy, and she was in the hall when the anarchist entered to-day. Foley had stopped the Chief's horse and buggy in front of the residence and was going to take the Chief downtown to the latter's office. A number of neighboring physicians were summoned to the house immediately after the shooting to attend Foley and the Chief's son. Foley was at once sent to a hospital, and Harry Shippy was also taken there after his father's reluctance to have him moved had been overcome.

The young man, who is twenty-one years old, a student at Culver Military Academy, Culver, Ind., is the most dangerously hurt of the three. Two bullets pierced his chest, and the surgeons in attendance made no effort to conceal the gravity of his condition.

Squads of policemen were sent to the Chief's home, and the assistant chief was summoned to take charge of the investigation which is following the shooting.

Mayor Busse ordered detectives sent to the undertakers rooms to which the body of the Anarchist was removed, and told the officers to arrest any one who came there attempting to identify the corpse. Up to late to-day no one had called at the rooms. A crowd of curiosity seekers gathered about the place, and at one time became so importunate that the policemen on guard were obliged to use force in keeping the crowd back.

Another crowd surrounded the Shippy residence and kept the police guard there busy. Not until several of the sightseers had been threatened with arrest would they submit to control.

The inquest over the body of the anarchist was begun this afternoon. It was at once adjourned to give the police further time for investigation. A post-mortem examination of the corpse was also ordered.

SCARE AT THE CITY HALL.

Mayor Busse had an exciting interview with an office-seeker a few minutes after the executive had returned to his office from the Shippy home, whither he had hurried on being informed of the affray. The stranger, who was shabbily dressed, was waiting outside the Mayor's office in the City Hall, and as the Mayor advanced extended his hand. The Mayor, who was pale and nervous after the experience of his Chief of Police, declined the grasp and eyed the man closely.

"I want a job and I am not here to ask you for anything more. But if I don't get a job there will be trouble," said the man.

The Mayor immediately ordered the man out of the building, and the latter, after gazing angrily at the city executive for a moment, descended to the main floor and walked away. Mayor Busse explained later that the individual had been calling on him and asking for a position every day for some time.

To-day, however, was the first time the man had threatened to create trouble. The incident, following so closely upon the tragedy at Chief Shippy's home, caused some excitement in City Hall, and several heads of departments issued orders to their clerks and secretaries not to admit strangers to their offices on any pretext.

Help Wanted To-Day!

As advertised for in The Morning World's Want Directory.

Agents	14	Forfeited	1
Artists	1	Foremen	1
Bakers	2	Girls	20
Bookbinders	1	Housework	50
Bookkeepers	5	Ironers	5
Boys	51	Janitors	8
Bricklayers	1	Jardines	1
Bushmen	1	Janitors	2
Butchers	1	Janitors	2
Canvassers	14	Machinists	1
Carpenters	2	Managers	1
Cashiers	5	Manicurers	1
Chambermaids	20	Milliners	1
Cigar-makers	2	Nurses	1
Chauffeurs	1	Operators	50
Collectors	2	Patenters	4
Compositors	4	Photographers	1
Cooks (Male)	5	Printers	1
Cooks (Female)	20	Plumbers	1
Cutters	1	Porters	2
Day's Work	1	Prose	6
Dressmakers	10	Supervisors	6
Dentists	1	Saloonmen	20
Dishwashers	1	Sin. Factors	1
Drivers	7	Shoemakers	2
Drug Clerks	4	Schoolboys	1
Electricians	1	Tailors	1
Elevator Runners	1	Tailors	1
Embroiderers	2	Tinners	1
Engineers	2	Trimmers	1
Errand Boys	1	Waiters	1
Feeders	6	Waitresses	20
Finishers	7	Miscellaneous	218
Firmers	1
Total	249

The World printed 818 Help ads to-day—249 more than all other New York papers combined.

AMERICAN BOY WINS 'THE 100' AT OXFORD

L. C. Hull, Rhodes Scholar from Michigan, Runs the Distance in 10 2-5.

OXFORD, March 2.—L. C. Hull, a Rhodes scholar from Michigan, won the first in the hundred-yard dash in the University sports this afternoon. He defeated N. Chavasse, of Trinity College, by two seconds. This was the same time he made in the preliminaries last Saturday.

MOLRONEY—FOSDICK. Mayor McClellan Unites Editor and Bridgeport Girl in Wedding. Mayor McClellan officiated this afternoon at the wedding of Joseph Sylvester FOSDICK, editor of the Tammany Times, and Miss Maude FOSDICK of Bridgeport, Conn. The Mayor married the couple in the option room of the City Hall.

FOG PUTS B. R. T. GOT AND CROWDS STALL THE SUBWAY

Trip Across Bridge Takes Anywhere from Ten to Fifteen Minutes.

FERRIES RUN HAPHAZARD Sound Liner Puts In at White-stone and Ocean Ships Are Held Out.

The dense fog that overhung New York to-day was responsible for several hours of a complete tie-up of traffic in the upper and lower bays, and the elevated trains of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit were run on any old schedule. This resulted in throwing a heavy strain on the Subway, and the Borough Hall station in Manhattan was wedged tight with men and women in a hurry to get to Manhattan.

The average time it took the elevated trains to cross the bridge was ten to fifteen minutes. On the Bath Beach, Bay Ridge and East New York lines the trains were all the way from a half to three-quarters of an hour behind time.

The big Plymouth of the Fall River line was compelled, after feeling her way a short distance in the gray another, to anchor off Whitestone and wait for the fog to lift.

Army Ferryboat Aground.

The Governor's Island ferryboat, Gen Hancock, got lost in the fog off the Battery this afternoon and, after vainly fishing around for the post dock, ran aground in the channel, on the northeast corner of the island.

Capt. Maynard tried to back off, but the boat had found a berth in the mud and could not be moved. The fog boat was so stuck around that the shore was not visible. The boat's whistle summoned help, and finally, with the aid of a mekapon, got into communication with the island authorities.

The tug Col. Wyckoff was sent to the rescue of the ferryboat, but after fifteen minutes of pulling and hauling failed to move the Gen. Hancock. The twenty-five passengers, including one woman, were landed by the tug on the island. The Col. Wyckoff made a second effort to release the ferryboat, but was forced to abandon the work until high tide. The Gen Hancock is not in danger.

Two large ocean vessels were held up at quarantine and their passengers were treated to a long spell of imprisonment in the walls of mist. The revenue cutters did not make their usual trips, as the navigators didn't care to take a chance on picking up the ships. The two beleaguered steamers, which were the Yigania, of the Ward line, and the Caledonia, of the Anchor line, were the only ones of a fleet of passenger liners which had not yet got as far as Tompkinsville.

Vessels Held Outside.

Outside, the Antilla, from Tampico; the Anselma, de Larinka, from Hull; the Santa Rosa, from San Juan; the Kuy, from Antwerp; the Mesana, from London; and the Sicilia, from Genoa, hung about waiting for a chance to get up the bay.

The ferries of the Thirty-ninth street line to Brooklyn went out of business early in the day, and the Staten Island ferries, ordinarily on a twenty-minute schedule, ran at intervals of an hour, and poured in an hour and a quarter. The tie-up of the ferries resulted in a great number of passengers being stranded at Whitehall street.

The Christopher street ferry, of the Lackawanna, suffered a material decrease in the number of its passengers. This is the shortest of the Hudson ferries. The ferries were running on the regular fog schedule, which means almost a doubling of the time of passage.

Large numbers of Hobokenites and commuters who ordinarily use the ferry took advantage of the new tunnel route under the river, and the trains in the Hudson tunnel were packed.

This morning the first day for ferries since the opening of the new tunnel, before 7 o'clock trains were running on three minute schedules and the number of the trains were increased to five and six car trains.

Between 7 and 8 o'clock one ticket seller at Hoboken sold 3,200 tickets. On last Saturday, which was a busy one, 3,200 tickets were sold during the same hour.

There was not a delay to any of the ferries. They were gathered with a pucker at the water and the top ruffe was fluted and ran around.

"Let me describe it to you, Judge," interrupted the prisoner, reading her luncheon glance upon the court. "It was gathered with a pucker at the water and the top ruffe was fluted and ran around."

Gets Only 50 Cents for Petticoat.

"I get it all back on the thirtieth, she says, but she doesn't send back that petticoat which I got 50 cents on deposit. That's an expensive petticoat, your Honor."

"Describe it to me, Judge," interrupted the prisoner, reading her luncheon glance upon the court. "It was gathered with a pucker at the water and the top ruffe was fluted and ran around."

The little lady cringed Collins' arm and patted it, saying, "I'll kiss you if you're good. Mrs. Jerry will get me the ball all right."

MILLIONAIRE JAMES OLIVER, PLOW MANUFACTURER, DEAD.

RICH BROKER IS IMPLICATED IN ARSON CHARGE

Involved by Men Held for Firing Hotel Amperand for Insurance.

According to Inspector McCafferty, of the Central Office, a Wall Street broker, who is known throughout financial circles in this city, will be arrested before night, charged with instigating the incendiary destruction of the Hotel Amperand, at Saranac Lake, which was burned to the ground last fall. A few days after the close of the season, two men who are alleged to have been in the plot to burn the hotel have confessed, and their confessions implicate the broker.

He was a stockholder in the hotel, which was one of the largest in the Adirondacks, and cost $270,000. There was $75,000 fire insurance on the building. It had not been paying, and the confessions in Inspector McCafferty's possession allege that the broker planned arson in order to collect the insurance money.

Herman Vanderwall, a chiropractor, formerly employed at the Hotel Plaza, and his son-in-law, Morris Newark, of No. 126 West Thirty-sixth street, are the men who have confessed. They are looked up at Headquarters. Newark told about his connection with the matter yesterday, but Vanderwall did not confess until this morning when he was confronted with a man whom he hired to go to Saranac Lake and start the fire.

Vanderwall and Newark were arraigned before Magistrate Herman in Centre Street Police Court this afternoon and held in $5,000 bail each at the request of Assistant District Attorney Krohn. The police court proceedings brought out the identity of the two men who allege that they were hired to set fire to the Amperand.

They are Barney Hoffman, alias George Baker, of No. 111 East One Hundredth street, and Harry Goldblatt, of No. 111 East One Hundredth and Eighth street. Affidavits made by each were presented in court. Hoffman swore that he was first drawn into the affair by a man who doubled himself as Dr. Frank Goldblatt. "Dr. Frank" also swore that he met "Dr. Frank" with Newark. "Dr. Frank" said, "I have a drawing showing the interior plan of the hotel and gave minute instructions as to how the fire should be started. He told Hoffman and Goldblatt, they said in their affidavits, that there was oil stored in the cellar, and directed them to pour the oil on the stairways before starting the blaze."

Calls Charge Ridiculous.

Charles M. Eaton, a member of the brokerage firm of Raymond, Pynchon & Co., 111 Broadway, and in charge of the branch office of the concern in the Plaza Hotel, is one of the stockholders who didn't care to take a chance on picking up the ships. When seen to-day he said that in his opinion the fire insurance companies were making a mistake in charging the blame on Hoffman and Newark.

Eaton worked for Vanderwall, said Mr. Eaton, who worked for him for several years. He said that he was in New York to St. Regis and was recently been in the city on business.

"I cannot understand why he should make such statements as he is making," he said. "I have secured from him there is nothing to show that the Amperand was incendiary. I went there the day after the fire and looked over the ground. As for any of the stockholders seeking to destroy the hotel by fire in order to get the insurance money, the idea is ridiculous. The mortgage was made by the hotel, and the fire caused us all a total loss and the loss falls quite heavily upon me."

RECEIVERS TAKE CHARGE OF THE ORIENTAL BANK

The effort of certain of the officers and depositors of the Oriental Bank to defeat Attorney-General Jackson's plan to have the institution placed in the hands of receivers took concrete form this afternoon at a mass-meeting of depositors, called by S. Stanwood Menken, of counsel to the bank. In the mean time the receivers, C. C. Dickinson, representing the Carnegie Trust Company, and Henry Schneider, court possession of the bank office at Broadway and John street.

Mr. Dickinson demanded of Bank Examiner Leonard, who has been in charge since the suspension of the Oriental, a sum exceeding $200,000 which he has collected. Mr. Leonard refused to turn it over stating that the amount would have to be applied to a debt the bank owes the Clearing House.

Mr. Menken also called upon Mr. Leonard and asked him for statements relative to discoveries made as to the condition of the bank by the examination since its suspension. Mr. Leonard said he had no authority to give out the result of his examination and referred Mr. Menken to the office of the State Superintendent of Banks at Albany.

At the time it ceased doing business the Oriental Bank owed the Clearing House Association with interest to the amount of $446,387.35.

Attorney-General Jackson has no intention of "backing down" in his plans to place the Oriental in a receivership. He says he is willing to give counsel for the bank take the matter into court.

Some 250 depositors of the Oriental Bank attended the mass meeting this afternoon. It was held in the rooms of the New York Transportation Exchange, Broadway and Fulton street. Nothing was said at the meeting about impeachment.

Attorney-General Jackson, Mr. Menken admitted that the Attorney-General acted in a strictly legal manner in putting the bank in charge of receivers.

NEW SUBWAY IS A RUBE BY THE COMMITTEE

Members of Board of Estimate Take Action After a Hearing.

The Board of Estimate Special Subways Committee will approve the Lexington avenue route. This was practically decided to-day, following the public hearing held in the City Hall after an informal talk among the members.

Approval of the route was decided upon as a step in the direction of our taming legislation at Albany favoring an amendment to the constitution extending the debt limit. Subway advocates will flock to Albany following approval of a route by the committee and put the matter of new subways up to the Legislature.

Scores of men wearing badges reading "Manhattan-Bronx Subways" were prominent figures at the hearing. Hermon Robinson, Samuel Prince and Thomas H. Curtis were among the labor union delegates, and John T. Meenan led a contingent from the Bronx.

An enthusiastic handed Comptroller Metz a "Manhattan and Bronx Subways" badge.

"Sure!" said the Comptroller. "You dare not wear it!" shouted someone.

"You just watch me!" retorted the Comptroller.

"Charlie" Murray, the Comptroller's secretary, also wore a subway's badge. "Give me two more of those badges," said Comptroller Metz, and former Police Captain Price handed them over. The Comptroller pinned badges on Commissioners Hase and Ennis, of the Public Service Commission, President McGowan and President Haffen also grabbed a badge and self-adoration, shared the plaudits showered on the Comptroller. President Ahearn also appeared with an emblem.

Calls for a Subway.

Edward A. Acker, representing Melrose and Morrisania property owners, spoke in favor of a Bronx subway, irrespective of what is done with any proposed route for Manhattan.

President McGowan said and the purpose of the hearing was only to decide the fate of the proposed subway under Lexington avenue, as changed by the Public Service Commission, and would have no bearing on an appropriation.

"You folks have no objection to an elevated road on Jerome avenue, have you?" asked chairman Metz.

"Not a word," said Acker. "We have an elevated road on the east side and there is no reason why an elevated road should not be built on the west side."

"Give us a trunk line now and it will make enough money to enable the city to build more," shouted Capt. Haffen. "We want to ride downtown and not walk downtown, so we stand for a trunk line anywhere in the Bronx."

A. Wiggers, of the House and Real Estate Owners' Association, advocated a first avenue subway, and Manhattan and Bronx Subways Association, presenting the only desirable east side route.

James H. Haas, of the Bronx, declared for a change of route so that the people of Unionport, Westchester, and Yonkers could get rapid transit now and not ten years hence. "It is to get downtown for five cents. It is to be built for five cents, so the city can't but for God's sake give us a subway."

L. Wrenn, of Trenton, advocated the building of the Lexington avenue subway with its extensions into the Bronx.

"Six next week, if possible," said the speaker. "We are losing to New Jersey now, and the Bronx will be decimated if they don't watch out."

A representative of the East Side Real Estate Association, who had advocated a subway other than the proposed Lexington avenue route on the East Side, declared that all the Bronx stood for an immediate construction of subways for the Bronx and Manhattan.

Rev. M. A. E. Barnett aroused approval of the Lexington avenue route, and declared that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

He said that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

He said that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

He said that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

He said that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

He said that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

He said that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

He said that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

He said that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

He said that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

He said that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

He said that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

He said that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

He said that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

He said that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

He said that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

He said that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

He said that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

He said that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

He said that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

He said that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

He said that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

TOO POOR TO PAY FAMIL'S WAY AND COMMITS SUICIDE

The fear that he would never be able to accumulate enough money to bring his wife and children from Budapest, Hungary, to this country, caused Endre Lauchbach, a diamond setter, living with his cousin at No. 27 East Eighty-third street, to commit suicide to-day by inhaling gas. Emanuel Schwartz, the cousin, found the body in the kitchen.

Lauchbach was thirty-seven years old, and had been out of work five months. He came to this city from Hungary a year and a half ago, hoping soon to be able to bring the rest of his family over also.

Lauchbach said to-day that Lauchbach was a half-brother of a well-known German actor, named Salzer now playing in New York City.

Lauchbach was thirty-seven years old, and had been out of work five months. He came to this city from Hungary a year and a half ago, hoping soon to be able to bring the rest of his family over also.

Lauchbach said to-day that Lauchbach was a half-brother of a well-known German actor, named Salzer now playing in New York City.

SUFFERED WITH ECZEMA 25 YEARS

Limb Peeled and Foot Was Like Raw Flesh—Had to Use Crutches, and Doctors Thought Amputation Necessary—Montreal Woman Writes of Cure Seven Years Ago.

BELIEVES LIFE SAVED BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I have been treated by doctors for twenty-five years for a bad case of eczema on my leg. They did their best, but failed to cure it. My doctor had advised me to have my leg cut off, but I said, 'I would try the Cuticura Remedies first.' He said, 'Try them if you like, but I do not think they will cure you.' At this time my leg was peeled from the knee, my foot was like a piece of raw flesh, and I had to walk on crutches. I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap, a box of Cuticura Ointment, and a bottle of Cuticura Pills. After the first two treatments the swelling went down, and in two months my leg was cured and the new skin came on. The doctor could not believe his own eyes when he saw that Cuticura had cured me and said that he would use it for his own patients. I used two cakes of Cuticura Soap, three boxes of Ointment, and five bottles of Pills, and I have not been cured over seven years, and but for the Cuticura Remedies I might have lost my life. I have lots of grandchildren, and they are frequent users of Cuticura, and I always recommend it to the many people whom my business brings to my house every day. Mrs. Jean-Baptiste, Montreal, Quebec, 277, Montana St., Montreal, Que., Feb. 20, 1907."

A. Wiggers, of the House and Real Estate Owners' Association, advocated a first avenue subway, and Manhattan and Bronx Subways Association, presenting the only desirable east side route.

James H. Haas, of the Bronx, declared for a change of route so that the people of Unionport, Westchester, and Yonkers could get rapid transit now and not ten years hence. "It is to get downtown for five cents. It is to be built for five cents, so the city can't but for God's sake give us a subway."

L. Wrenn, of Trenton, advocated the building of the Lexington avenue subway with its extensions into the Bronx.

"Six next week, if possible," said the speaker. "We are losing to New Jersey now, and the Bronx will be decimated if they don't watch out."

A representative of the East Side Real Estate Association, who had advocated a subway other than the proposed Lexington avenue route on the East Side, declared that all the Bronx stood for an immediate construction of subways for the Bronx and Manhattan.

Rev. M. A. E. Barnett aroused approval of the Lexington avenue route, and declared that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

He said that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

He said that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

He said that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

He said that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

He said that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

He said that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

He said that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

He said that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

He said that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

He said that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

He said that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

He said that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

He said that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

He said that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

He said that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

He said that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

He said that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

He said that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

He said that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

He said that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

He said that the Lexington avenue route was the best for the Bronx and Manhattan.

SHEFFIELD MILK.

Beginning March 1st, our regular bottled milk will be sold in Manhattan, Bronx and Brooklyn for

8c. Per Quart. Perfectly pasteurized milk is put under the label shown below:

This sells at 10c. Per Quart. Certified milk 15c per quart. Sheffield Farms.

SLAWSON-DECKER CO. JAMES R. KEANE & CO.

EVERYTHING FOR HOUSEKEEPING Furniture, Carpets, Rugs, Draperies, Bedding, 3 Rooms, 4 Rooms, Neatly Furnished, $58.75, $79.50

5 Rooms, Elegantly Furnished, $122

$1 WEEKLY. OPENS AN ACCOUNT. WRITE FOR NEW BOOKLET. OPEN SAT. EVENINGS UNTIL 10.

3-AVE 77-78 STS. J. MORRIS. GRAND RAPIDS FURNITURE CARPETS, RUGS, BEDDING. ON CREDIT. 3-AVE 77-78 STS. $1.00 WEEKLY. WRITE FOR LISTS OF OUTFITS. OPEN SAT. SATURDAY EVE 6-8.

267 WEST 125 ST. SLIP COVERS. Direct from the Manufacturer. 5 PIECES. $4.35. The best Belgian Damask, allowing 20 yards perfect fit guaranteed. Phone or drop us a postal and an experienced upholsterer will call with samples and prices.

UPHOLSTERY CO., 156 West 21st St., Tel. 6th and 4th Aves. Tel. 2733-Chelsea. Parlor Suits Reupholstered at Lowest Prices.

DIED. FREDERICKS—Suddenly on Feb. 25, John Fredericks, beloved husband of May Fredericks (nee Moran). Funeral from his late residence, 231 E. 125th St., on Tuesday March 3 at 2 P. M. Interment Calvary.

KLUETT—Suddenly, EMIL KLUETT, husband of Catherine. Funeral services at his late residence, 500 Eagle av., Bronx, 2 o'clock Tuesday, March 3. Interment St. Michael's Cemetery.

No conception can be had of the originality and beauty of these dainty dresses. Descriptions would be inadequate. You must see them. A most superb assortment awaits you.

Juniors' and Misses', $10.50 upward.

Silk & Promenade Dresses. Opening Week: "Would be a profitable visit to come from a distance just to see these dainty, lustrous dresses. A display to please every woman, however fastidious or economical she may be."

$19.50 upward.

Would You Swap For a Boat? Here's a jolly sailor Who's just put out to sea; He's as happy as he looks, As all good "sails" should be.

And so would you feel jolly If through World Ads. to-day You'd buy a row-boat, launch or yacht And merrily sail away.

Just Try It and See.

Quick Repairing. Any glass matched EXACTLY, without the prescription. Accurate service at very moderate prices. Factory on the Premises.

J. Ehrlich & Sons. ESTABLISHED Nearly 30 Years. Sixth Avenue, 1274 Broadway, 101 Nassau St., 217 Broadway, Near Ann St., Astor House Block, 225 Sixth Avenue, near 14th St.

The Leading Specialty House

Store Bulletin. Fashions and Styles for